

BEYOND OUR WALLS

Outreach of St. George's Church 2017

WELCOME

We're excited to share some of the great work happening in our community through organizations we support through outreach at St. George's.

St. George's is presently supporting over 60 organizations in the Nashville community and throughout the world with financial contributions. While we would love to invite all of these organizations to our Outreach Fair, simple space constraints prohibit us from doing so. This year we are featuring many of the organizations who receive the majority of our funding (the organizations present represent almost 80% of our Outreach Funding contributions, and each organization is receiving substantial financial support from St. George's). This reflects our desire as a church to invest narrower and more deeply with organizations rather than spreading our outreach funds over a wider array of organizations in a way that lessens our impact for each.

Along with organizations supported through our Outreach Funding, we also are featuring organizations supported at substantial levels in other ways including St. George's Enterprise Ministry (SGEM) and the annual Christmas Offering. These organizations are an important part of our overall desire to help groups of people who are committed to the vision of social enterprise.

We are also very excited to feature some of our Missional Communities at this year's Outreach Fair. Missional Communities (MCs) are at the core of St. George's vision of worship, discipleship, and mission, and as such, they are a primary mechanism through which we want to be practicing "outreach" as a church. The MCs featured at the Outreach Fair are in various stages of development, but we are excited to share these stories as a way of celebrating the great work God is doing among us, and to inspire others in the congregation to use their gifts and passions to reach out in their own neighborhoods and spheres of influence with the gospel.

MISSIONAL COMMUNITIES

This year the Outreach Fair is featuring several Missional Communities that are at work in and around Nashville and the surrounding area. As you visit with them, you'll notice that these groups all look a bit different, but they share a common vision, which is to live out our mission - to receive, live, and share the abundant life of Jesus Christ.

WHAT IS A MISSIONAL COMMUNITY FOR ST. GEORGE'S CHURCH?

St. George's Church is focused on developing mid-sized groups we call Missional Communities (MCs). Missional Communities are groups of church members committed to growing in Christ through regular fellowship and intentional engagement with people outside the church. These fellowships are prominent expressions of our vision and embody two vital truths of the Christian faith: life in Jesus is best done in community, and our Lord calls us to go forth beyond our community to bless others with his truth, love, and mercy.

FIVE MARKS OF MISSIONAL COMMUNITIES:

- Mid-sized fellowship of 20-40 church members. Groups can be inclusive of children when families participate.
- Gather at least once a month for a casual meal and fellowship.
- Make time for prayer and worship. Each gathering includes some form of prayer, worship, Scripture meditation, singing or other intentional spiritual engagements, as well as theological reflection time.
- Develop a relationship with a group outside the church. Identify a group of people outside the church that the MC will seek to serve and bless.
- Be a community of continuous theological reflection about shared experiences of missional outreach.

MISSIONAL COMMUNITIES FEATURED AT THE OUTREACH FAIR:

- Active Boomers
- Alpha
- Evensong
- Faith & the Arts
- Foster Care/ Monroe Harding, Inc.
- Healing Prayer
- Harvest Hands
- Our Little Roses
- Poverty & the Arts

We're excited to feature these Missional Communities at the Outreach Fair as a way of displaying some of the exciting ways God is leading us to reach out as a church community with the love of Christ. If you are interested in learning more about leading or being part of a missional community, contact Claudia Taylor at claudia.taylor@stgeorgesnashville.org or 615-385-2150 x 218.
